

Random capitalization

Official emails will never use all caps for the University's name.

Urgent subject line

Phishing emails try to create a sense of fear and urgency. Official emails typically do not.

Warning! Your Urgent Attention Is Needed!

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH DAKOTA

To: Last, First

Thu 9/15/2022 7:39 AM

Thank your for being part of THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH DAKOTA at GRAND FORKS webmail Services. We're excited to contact your email!

What to do now!

We are currently updating our UNIVERSITY of NORTH DAKOTA at GRAND FORKS services, due to this upgrade we sincerely call your attention to follow below link and reconfirm your UNIVERSITY of NORTH DAKOTA at GRAND FORKS email account details.

Click here to reconfirm your email account

Thank You

<http://www.UNIVERSITYofNORTHDAKOTA-techsupport.com/SignIn.html>

Reply

Reply all

Forward

Out of context sentences

This phrase does not make sense in the context of the email, particularly one with a sense of urgency.

Bad grammar, spelling, and odd phrasing

This entire paragraph illustrates language mistakes commonly found in phishing emails.

Bad links

Hover your mouse over a link to see the target destination. If you see a long, strange link that doesn't look familiar, it's probably phish.